College Students Recognized for Voter Registration, Education and Turnout Efforts That Drove Historic Midterm Results

ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge honors 175 college students across the country for their nonpartisan voter registration and turnout successes

(Washington, DC) Today, the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge (ALL IN) announced that 175 college students were selected for the second annual Student Voting Honor Roll. ALL IN's Student Voting Honor Roll recognizes college students at participating campuses who have gone above and beyond to advance nonpartisan student voter registration, education and turnout efforts in their communities.

Last year's midterm elections saw one of the highest youth voter turnouts in a midterm election in the last 40 years – an estimated 23 percent of young people ages 18 to 29 turned out to vote. The Honor Roll highlights students who played a critical role in driving voter registration, education and turnout on their campuses. The diverse group of honorees spans 39 states, including 35 students at minority-serving institutions and 23 students at community colleges. The full list of student honorees is available here.

“This year’s honorees played a crucial part in registering and empowering student voters ahead of last year’s midterm elections, resulting in historic turnout among young voters. The ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge is honored to celebrate hundreds of student leaders encouraging nonpartisan democratic engagement across the country,” said Jennifer Domagal-Goldman, Executive Director of the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge. “These students organized voter registration drives, coordinated campus-wide voter engagement resources and brought polling locations to their campuses. We are excited to watch these students continue to change the world.”
