Ahead of 2024 Elections, ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge Recognizes 522 Campuses for Excellence in Nonpartisan Student Voter Engagement

ALL IN Awards Day honors participating campuses for nonpartisan student voter engagement in the 2022 Midterm Elections, showing what's possible for student turnout in November

Washington, DC: Today, the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge (ALL IN) celebrated ALL IN Awards Day, recognizing more than 520 campuses for nonpartisan democratic engagement efforts that fostered high levels of student voter registration and turnout in the 2022 midterm elections. According to current data, students at ALL IN campuses voted at a rate that is 2 percentage points higher than the national average, representing hundreds of thousands of student voters and demonstrating the effectiveness of higher education leaders making nonpartisan democratic engagement programs a defining feature of campus life and culture.

The awards are determined based on data from the National Study of Learning, Voting, and Engagement \(NSLVE\) out of Tufts University. According to NSLVE, colleges and universities had the second-highest turnout in a midterm election since data became available.

“In 2022, higher education leaders proved that nonpartisan student voter engagement efforts are making an impact,” said Jen Domagal-Goldman, Executive Director of the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge. “With more than 8 million young people newly eligible to vote in the 2024 elections, ALL IN campuses are ready to take this momentum from youth voter turnout in 2022 to make sure their communities are ready to make an even bigger impact this fall. This ALL IN Awards Day, we’re proud to celebrate these campuses preparing students to become responsible and engaged participants in our democracy this November and beyond.”
