

ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge 2016 Action Plan

Anne Arundel Community College believes that students must gain certain learning and life skills from their college experience beyond the specific content each class provides. These fundamental learning outcomes, called core competencies, are vital to success in work and in life. Consistent with the institutional mission and vision, the college is committed to offering experiences that allow students to acquire, develop and demonstrate growth in these competencies.

One of the competencies is Social and Civic Responsibility, which is defined as “Participating in communities as an informed, committed and productive individual.”

ACTION PLAN

September 19 – Legal Studies Institute students conduct voter registration, along with disseminating information about the US constitution, for Constitution Day.

September 27 – National Voter Registration Day. The League of Women Voters holds voter registration drive on campus.

October 3 – Student Political Association holds voter registration drive on campus

October 6 – Two social justice classes hold voter registration drive in 6 locations around campus

October 13 – National Student Day in AACC Bookstore. League of Women Voters has table promoting civic engagement and voter registration
