

Middlebury 2020 Action Plan

Summary

This Campus Action Plan was developed by student leaders of MiddVote, Middlebury's non-partisan civic engagement group, as well as staff members of the Middlebury College Center for Community Engagement and the Middlebury Institute of International Studies (MIIS) Civic Engagement Fellow. This plan is a continuation of student and staff efforts to increase election engagement, voter participation, and education at Middlebury campuses. MiddVote, Middlebury College and MIIS are all deeply committed to inclusivity, equity, and non-partisanship. Our Action Plan was developed with the goal of increasing voting participation, education, and empowerment in the Middlebury Community during the 2020 primary elections, general election, and beyond. The development of this plan has been aided by resources from the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge and the Students Learn Students Vote (SLSV) Coalition. Our plan is intentionally student-led and student focused, because we believe the most effective organizing efforts center the leadership of the communities they focus on.

Institutional Context

At the heart of Middlebury's institutional mission lies a commitment to providing students with the skills and opportunities to engage as ethical citizens. Middlebury's mission statement says that "we prepare students to lead engaged, consequential, and creative lives, contribute to their communities, and address the world's most challenging problems." We believe that empowered participation in our democracy, when possible, is an essential piece of community. Middlebury also works to foster "the inquiry, equity, and agency, for them [students] to practice ethical citizenship at home and far beyond our Vermont campus."

By empowering students to vote and be engaged in local and national government, we embody Middlebury's mission. Middlebury uses the National Study of Learning, Voting, and Engagement, (NSLVE) to measure election participation among students. According to NSLVE, in the 2018 midterm elections, Middlebury had a voting rate of 51%, a 36% increase from our voting rate in the 2014 midterm elections. Between the 2012 and 2016 presidential elections, Middlebury's voting rate rose by 8.4%. Because of Middlebury's voting history, we believe that our efforts have made a significant difference in increasing voter participation, and that we have the capacity to continue those increases. We hope to build upon our momentum in 2020 and beyond.

Operating as a student organization, MiddVote is managed by a group of undergraduates in collaboration with the Middlebury College Center for Community engagement. MiddVote leadership is predominantly horizontal, with democratic leadership within the group and one paid student acting as the formal liaison between the Middlebury College Center for Community Engagement and the rest of the group. MiddVote works with a coalition of members from the Middlebury community who are united by their shared commitment to increasing election engagement and civic participation. Our partners will include traditional campus political groups, as well as cultural organizations, activist organizations, athletic teams, performing arts groups, administrative groups, Middlebury College Student Government Organization, faculty, staff, and administration. While MiddVote is largely undergraduate, we work in collaboration with Jasmine, the Democratic Engagement fellow at MIIS. MiddVote is nonpartisan and strives to include voices from across the political spectrum, including those who have not participated in the political process in the past.

Goals

Create and foster a sustainable campus infrastructure that will support the following outcomes among Middlebury College students:

- Election participation
 - Register students to vote. By 2020, 90% of Middlebury students who are eligible U.S. voters will be registered.
 - Increase student voter turnout. In the 2020 general election, 80% of Middlebury students who are eligible U.S. voters will vote.
 - Create initiatives for all students, eligible and otherwise, to engage in election day activities (volunteering, election parties, etc.)
- Voter Education & Empowerment
 - Educate new Addison County, Vermont voters and Monterey County, California voters on local issues and candidates
 - Educate all students on the issues and candidates that will be on their ballots
 - Foster an awareness among Middlebury students about voter suppression, disenfranchisement, and the history of activism that led to expansions of voting rights
 - Hold events and campaigns about civic engagement that are inclusive of students who are not eligible to vote in the U.S.
- Development & Expansion of MiddVote
 - Reach more spaces, groups, and communities on campus with our election engagement efforts
 - Develop materials to help students decide whether to vote in VT, CA, or their home state
 - Reach new students at multiple points during orientation and the first semester of school, and work with Residential Life and Student Services (MIIS) to make this practice permanent
 - Recruit new volunteers and empower them to run voter registration drives and other events with skill and confidence
 - Develop and promote a MiddVote website with resources on registering to vote, requesting ballots, and learning about upcoming elections, candidates, and issues for all 50 states
 - Work with Renee Wells, Middlebury's Director for Equity and Inclusion, to develop programming to help faculty facilitate inclusive discussions about elections
 - Develop effective and inclusive language to encourage students and community members to participate in elections
- Civic Learning and Democratic Engagement
 - Select and implement targeted strategies from Election Imperatives and Election 365 designed to deepen a culture of civic learning on campus

Evaluation & Reporting

Middlebury College uses the NSLVE report to evaluate student voting rates. We will also use an anonymous student survey after the election sent out to the entire student body asking the following questions: are you an eligible US voter? Are you registered to vote? Did you vote? Why or why not? What would have made it easier for you to vote? After the election, we will hold several meetings with the MiddVote team as well as one meeting open to the public to discuss the effectiveness of various initiatives and events.

Some other measures we will use to evaluate our success are as follows:

- 2020 voting rate (% of eligible students that voted)
- # of people we helped register or request ballot
- # of days tabled
- # of consistent student volunteers
- # of riders in the election day shuttles
- # of student groups we worked with

The results of our evaluation will be used to inform future efforts and plans.
