Goals

Long Term Goals:

1. Civic Requirement
Section 1007.25(4), Florida Statutes, requires all students who enter a Florida public college or university in 2018 or any semester after to meet the State of Florida Civic Literacy Requirement. Therefore, we will continue working with campus partners to support the successful meeting of this requirement.
2. Democratic Engagement Badge
Develop a comprehensive democratic engagement series where students can earn credit that exhibits their civic competencies through event, workshop and program attendance
3. Actively engage students in the STEM fields

Short Term Goals:

1. Register students to vote or to update their information within the first 40 days of the fall semester, specifically on National Voter Registration Day and Constitution Day
2. Engage with students on social media platforms using the hashtag #NCFVOTES
3. Design programs and spaces for students to engage with each other on political issues to equip and increase their knowledge of not just issues or candidates but of the democratic process and challenges
4. Include upper administrators in the plan to increase student engagement

Strategy:

Below lists the programs/ initiatives NCF will implement:

Constitution Day: League of Women Voters will register students to vote while an on-campus speaker engages students on political topics that are of interest to the community.

National Voter Registration Day: Rachel Denton, Communications and Voter Outreach Manager of Sarasota County Supervisor of Elections, and her team comes to campus to register students, faculty and staff to vote for the upcoming elections, gives students an opportunity to be involved with the election through their poll worker program, and gives students information on absentee ballots.

Roll to the Polls: NCF Staff will be offering rides to the nearest polling stations in the College Van during election time.

Social Media Campaigns: SAuCE will post regular content on the various social media pages such as Facebook, and Instagram using the hashtag #NCFVOTES. We will also be posting on our on-campus movie streaming site, NovoFlix with different types of movies relating to civic engagement.

Litty with the City: The Campus Vote Project Fellow will invite local Sarasota government officials to campus to give students an opportunity to ask general questions about how local government works, and the importance of it. Sarasota City commissioner Liz Alpert and City Manager Tom Barwin will engage with students through a panel discussion about local government. The topics will be a range of local elections, census information, and more.

Do you have common Census?: The Campus Vote Project Fellows will coordinate with a student organization to create a trivia based upon the upcoming 2020 Census to get students engaged in the census in a fun way.

VoteFest: The SAuCE Office and CVP Fellows will plan a VoteFest which will include Rachel Denton, Communications & Voter Outreach Manager of SRQ County Supervisor of Elections, representatives from the 2020 Census team, international students to do a “world of politics” table, student organization Democracy Matters involved, and the New College library to promote the civic literacy exam required for all students entering New College from 2018 and on. This a way to provide students with more information about the upcoming election, and census. This will also target students that are already registered to be more engaged with the other aspects of democracy outside of registration.

STEMulating Stats: This will be an event targeting STEM majors to be more civically engaged with democracy. This will be a presentation/ discussion by a faculty member about how STEM and democracy intersects within the United States. The discussion will be on various topics such as environmental protection, data science & artificial intelligence, public health issues, urban planning, economic development, public safety, and more.

Race Power and Politics: This event/ workshop will look at the intersectionality of race, power, and politics within democracy. There will be a special guest invited to challenge students to look at the systems in the United States and how racism is infiltrated into those systems.

Women in Politics/Leadership: This will be a panel event inviting diverse women to talk about their experiences within politics on a local & national level. This event will be during the month of March to recognize the importance of women's efforts in society.

Brewing over the issues: A monthly event led by the Campus Vote Project Fellows to discuss various topics relating to voter education over coffee, and snacks.

Popcorn & Politics: SAUCE and the CVP fellows will show movies throughout the semester with a discussion afterwards. We will use Novoflix to help select movies that will engage students to think critically about how democracy works.

Debate Watch Party: Have students meet in the Hamilton Center to watch the Presidential debate on Tuesday, Nov 3rd.

Assessment Plans

The SauCE Office will track the engagement of students using the following methods:

Event Participation

- All events will be housed on our engagement platform NovoConnect. Using this system will be able to have an accurate number of participants for each event through the check-in process. Once students are checked in, their participation will be on their co-curricular transcript. Which will then lead to students building towards their Civic Literacy badge

National Report

- Using the NSLVE Report to help measure our efforts in increasing civic engagement within our student body. This report will help SAUCE target specific populations of students that are not actively engaged. It will also help to determine if our civic engagement programming is making an impact on students.

Pre and Post Evaluations

- Before each event, students will be asked to share what they know on the topic and once again after the event.
