ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge Campus Plan

I. Executive Summary

The University of Central Arkansas (UCA) Civic Action Planning Committee was formed in August 2017 and identified as its tasks cataloging existing civic engagement activities, proposing potential new civic engagement activities, and developing mechanisms for better coordinating civic engagement activities at UCA.

The initial membership of the Civic Action Planning Committee drew heavily from a previous campus group, the Campus Election Engagement Project Committee, which met as a working group throughout the spring and fall semesters of 2016 to coordinate campus voter education and engagement efforts surrounding the 2016 Presidential election, and which had broad campus representation of diverse stakeholders. At an initial meeting of the Civic Action Planning Committee, the group generated a list of additional campus and community stakeholders to invite to participate, as well as replacement members as needed.

Following the submission of UCA's Civic Action Plan to Campus Compact in 2018, the group reconvened as the Civic Action Coordination Committee to reflect its ongoing focus on serving as the coordinating body for civic engagement activities campuswide.

Administrative support for civic engagement at UCA and for the Civic Action Coordination Committee is provided by the Division of Outreach & Community Engagement, which houses Service-Learning & Volunteerism and the Vote Everywhere program. Additionally, the UCA Student Government Association created a new committee in 2018 for external affairs, the Bear Advocacy Group, which is advised by the university's Director for Governmental Affairs and External Relations.

This version of the UCA Civic Action Plan has been updated in May 2020 to include information gathered and initiatives developed in UCA's original 2018 Civic Action Plan as well as the Vote Everywhere Campus Plan for 2020-2021. This document is to guide the implementation of civic engagement at the university and the work of the Civic Action Coordination Committee in 2020-2021.

At an initial meeting of the Civic Action Planning Committee, the group generated a list of additional campus and community stakeholders to invite to participate, as well as replacement members as needed.

All committee members are expected to attend monthly meetings, contribute information about current civic engagement activities and initiatives, and collaborate with others on the committee to support or enrich their work.

Administrative Infrastructure for Civic Engagement

Administrative support for civic engagement at UCA and for the Civic Action Coordination Committee is provided by the Division of Outreach & Community Engagement, which houses Service-Learning & Volunteerism and the Vote Everywhere program. Additionally, the UCA Student Government Association created a new committee in 2018 for external affairs, the Bear Advocacy Group, which is advised by the university's Director for Governmental Affairs and External Relations.

III. Commitment

UCA has been home to a wide variety of civic engagement activities and initiatives over the years, and our institutional leadership recognizes the benefits of making these efforts more intentional, strategic, coordinated, and mutually supported across campus. We see a strong foundation for civic engagement activities in the university's Vision, Mission, Core Values, and Strategic Plan.

Civic Action Plan Vision and Mission

The UCA Civic Action Plan seeks to energize and expand the university's focus on civic engagement, including activities and initiatives, new or ongoing, that contribute to producing graduates who are educated citizens, creating partnerships that serve the public good, and developing learning opportunities that promote social responsibility locally and around the world.

The Civic Action Plan supports the vision and mission of the University of Central Arkansas and the following core values:

- Intellectual Excellence, including preparing students to be educated citizens who are culturally competent and appreciate diversity
- Community, including community partnerships, outreach activities, and public service
- Diversity, including learning opportunities for students as members of our global community
- Integrity, including an institution, faculty, staff, and student body that are responsible members of our many levels of community

Furthermore, the Civic Action Plan supports the University's Strategic Plan Goal 1A, as increasing civic engagement opportunities on campus will support students' academic and personal success.

Civic Engagement in the Curriculum & Co-Curriculum

Educating for civic learning and democratic engagement have been incorporated into the general education curriculum with the core requirement for responsible living and into various disciplines at all levels through the Service-Learning Program. The UCA Core is designed to help students develop the knowledge necessary for critical inquiry, effective communication, and responsible living in a diverse and changing world; the overarching goal of the program is to develop curious, knowledgeable, articulate, and ethical people who are prepared for greater success in future learning and who are willing and able to make effective contributions to their communities.

In the UCA Core, responsible living is defined as “the ability to address real-world problems and find ethical solutions for individuals and society.”

- Goal A: Apply ethical principles to solve problems
 - The Goal A rubric assesses the following three specific skills or knowledge areas:
 - Ethical Awareness
 - Ethical Issue Recognition
 - Ethical Application
- Goal B: Make appropriate recommendations based on discipline specific knowledge to address an issue or scenario and evaluate the effect that decisions have on the well-being of self, others, society and/or environment(s).
 - The Goal B rubric assesses the following three specific skills or knowledge areas:
 - Issue Recognition
 - Analysis of Knowledge
 - Impact of Decisions

All courses designated as service-learning courses include the outcomes that students will

1. Understand how the discipline can serve the needs of the community
2. Achieve course objectives
3. Understand and appreciate local, national, and/or global diversity
4. Understand their role as engaged and informed citizens
5. Understand the importance of UCA’s responsibility to help address the needs of the community
6. Learn to work well with others to achieve common goals

Civic engagement is furthermore integrated into the co-curriculum through the Bear Experience, where Community Engagement and Service is one of four pathways available for students to earn credentialing through a co-curricular transcript. Students on this path will develop an understanding of communities through service and civic activities that apply knowledge and work with others to address social issues. Activities in the Community Engagement and Service pathway develop the following skills:

- Civic Engagement
- Community Collaboration
- Problem Solving
- Social Responsibility

Institutionalization of Civic Engagement at UCA

The University of Central Arkansas joined Campus Compact in 2013 in conjunction with the formal launch of the university's Service-Learning Program, recognizing the importance of joining a national community of practice as we institutionalized academic service-learning on our campus. Since that time, university representatives have participated in and presented at the Gulf-South Summit on Service-Learning and Civic Engagement through Higher Education, submitted nominees for Campus Compact recognition programs such as the Newman Civic Fellows, and utilized other Campus Compact resources such as conference calls and grant opportunities.

The university welcomed our 11th president, Houston D. Davis, in January 2017, and President Davis signed the Campus Compact 30th Anniversary Action Statement on May 4th, 2017. The Civic Action Planning Committee completed the university's first Civic Action Plan in May 2018. Also in 2018, the university became a member institution of the Gulf-South Summit on Service-Learning and Civic Engagement through Higher Education and joined the Vote Everywhere network of campuses.

In 2020, President Davis also became a signatory of the Higher Education Presidents' Commitment to Full Student Voter Participation as part of the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge.

IV. Landscape

Civic Engagement Defined

The Civic Action Planning Committee used the following definitions to guide our understanding of civic engagement:

Excerpts from Civic Responsibility and Higher Education (2000), edited by Thomas Ehrlich, provide two definitions:

“Civic engagement means working to make a difference in the civic life of our communities and developing the combination of knowledge, skills, values and motivation to make a difference. It means promoting the quality of life in a community, through both political and non-political processes.” -Preface, page vi

“A morally and civically responsible individual recognize himself or herself as a member of a larger social fabric and therefore considers social problems to be at least partly his or her own; such an individual is willing to see the moral and civic dimensions of issues, to make and justify informed moral and civic judgments, and to take action when appropriate.”
-Introduction, page xxvi

Another relevant quote comes from Michael Sandel's book, Justice (2009). “If a just society requires a strong sense of community, it must find a way to cultivate in citizens a concern for the whole, a dedication to the common good. It can't be indifferent to the attitudes and dispositions, the 'habits of the heart,' that citizens bring to public life. It must find a way to lean against purely private notions of the good life, and cultivate civic virtue” -Page 263

Given these definitions, a civic engagement activity is one that engages members of the university community in reciprocal partnerships both within and beyond the university to make a positive difference in the quality of life of a community and contribute to the common good. To further operationalize this definition, we imagine that civic engagement activities will do at least one of the following:

- Support the university's infrastructure for civic learning and reciprocal partnerships
- Prepare students for a life of active citizenship through curricular and co-curricular learning about issues of public concern
- Recognize and work to address social inequalities in our communities, including our campus community

Framework for a Civically Engaged University

The Framework for a Civically Engaged University is part of an institutional effort at UCA to provide all students opportunities for participation in experiential learning activities.

Expectations for a Civically Engaged University: All students have the opportunity to participate in at least one civic engagement activity, and all faculty and staff have support for participating in institutional efforts and initiatives that serve the public good. This will involve the institution offering a significant number of civic engagement activities, including both academic and co-curricular.

Categories for Activities

- Partnerships for the Public Good
- Education and Civic Engagement
- Challenging Social Inequalities

Key Activities: The activities below are intended to capture the breadth of programs and stakeholders on campus that are currently engaged in civic engagement or will engage in civic engagement activities in the future. The programs and stakeholders may or may not have civic engagement as their primary mission or responsibility.

University Centers

- Definition: University Centers provide targeted data, research, and programming to support campus and community initiatives. University Centers included in this Civic Action Plan are those that respond to community needs with specialized expertise. Community needs may be local, regional, national, or global in nature, and resources provided may include technical assistance, public policy analysis, community-based research, capacity building, and lifelong learning.
- Examples: Arkansas Center for Research in Economics, Center for Community & Economic Development, and the Confucius Institute

Academic Engagement

- Definition: Academic Engagement is defined under the Civic Action Plan as the institutional framework for providing intentional curricular processes that develop the knowledge, skills, abilities, and attitudes necessary for students to lead lives of active citizenship and contribute to addressing issues of public concern.
- Examples: Service-Learning Program, Study Abroad/Domestic Study Away, Internships, PhD in Leadership Studies, Honors College, Arkansas Collegiate Model UN, and the Citizens Academy

Faculty and Staff Development and Support

- Definition: Faculty and Staff Development and Support are programs and resources that bolster institutional capacity (1) to promote quality of community and institutional diversity, (2) to develop and execute the programs and initiatives outlined in the civic action plan, and (3) to recognize the value of civic engagement work of students, faculty, staff, and community partners
- Examples: Institutional Diversity Grants, Service-Learning Seed Grants, the Women in Academic Leadership Learning Community, and initiatives from the Center for Teaching Excellence that support civic engagement and learning

Campus-Community Civic Engagement Programs

- Definition: Campus-Community Civic Engagement Programs are programs, projects, and initiatives that bring together campus and community stakeholders and resources with the explicit purpose to explore what it means to be an active citizen and community member, engage participants in shared reflection and learning about issues affecting our neighbors and communities, and support participation in local, state, national, and global communities
- Examples: CitiZine Project, Conway Conversations, Women's Leadership Network, and the Poverty Studies Working Group

Student-to-Student Organizations

- Definition: Student-to-Student Organizations support the mission and vision of UCA and the Civic Action Plan. Student-led Registered Student Organizations (RSOs) feature several ongoing community outreach and philanthropic initiatives. Community-focused RSO initiatives develop civic learning, civic action, and social responsibility.
- Examples: Social Justice League, SGA Community Engagement, PRISM, Greek Life, Veteran Students Association, and Non-Traditional Student Organization

Volunteerism, Philanthropy, and Direct Benefit Programs

- Definition: Volunteerism, Philanthropy, and Direct Benefit Programs support the Civic Action Plan's vision of a university effectively challenging the detrimental effects of social and economic inequality. These programs allow the university and surrounding community to practice and promote social responsibility by creating partnerships with local institutions, establishing and increasing accessibility to university programs, and encouraging awareness and/or direct aid for the immediate alleviation of resource insecurity.

- Examples: Food Recovery Network, Big Event, Bear Boots on the Ground, Greek Life philanthropy requirements, Swipe Out Hunger, Bear Essentials Food Pantry, and the Career Services WOW Clothing Closet

Student Access and Success Programs

- Definition: Student Access and Success Programs provide research-based initiatives that address pervasive, systemic social inequities in educational access and attainment. Programs move underrepresented population, first-general students, and under-prepared students toward academic success and college completion. These initiatives include programs designed to close achievement gaps, secondary school partnerships for college preparation, as well as bridge, transitional, and second-chance programs that provide high-impact support. Additionally, we endorse programs that educate, tutor, and coach toward social responsibility and lifelong learning.
- Examples: Black Male Achievement Challenge (BMAC), Project X, Summer Start, Unlocking College Academics Now (UCAN), Upward Bound, Office of Student Success, Department of Student Transitions, and Gateways to Completion

Key Partnerships

- Definition: The university will pursue, develop, and sustain key partnerships that promote civic engagement that reciprocally benefits students and community partners. Opportunities to engage in long-term partnerships with broad campus engagement will be identified through ongoing assessment of institutional, student, and community needs and interests.
- Examples: Arkansas PBS, City of Hope Outreach, Faulkner County Juvenile Court, and the Gusangira Project (Service-Learning in Rwanda)

Co-Curricular Civic Learning

- Definition: Co-Curricular Civic Learning will support UCA's Civic Action Plan vision of graduates who are educated and engaged citizens. The initiatives provide the information, develop the civic relationships, and cultivate the community-minded dispositions necessary for effective participation in public affairs.
- Examples: Citizens Academy, Vote Everywhere, National Study of Learning, Voting, and Engagement, Citizenship & Democracy Week, Arkansas Collegiate Model UN, and Gender Studies Lecture Series

Current Civic Engagement Data

UCA participates in the National Study for Learning, Voting, and Engagement (NSLVE) during election years. Our NSLVE report shows that 49.3% of students voted in the most recent presidential election in 2016. Of those who voted, 30% (1,514 students) voted on election day in person. Students ages 18-21 had the lowest voting rate of all age groups at 43.7%, and first-year students were least likely to vote. Minority students also voted at lower rates than white students. In our most recent midterm election in 2018, 79.9% of students were registered to vote and 38.8% of registered students voted, representing a 1% decrease from 2014 and falling 8 percentage points below the average of all institutions. Of those who voted in 2018, 44.5% (1,365 students) voted on election day in person, with the majority (51%) choosing to vote early. Turnout was lowest among students ages 18-21 (25.1%). Turnout decreased from 2014 to 2018 among students ages 22-24, 25-29, and 50+, but increased among students ages 18-21, 30-39, and 40-49. We also note that turnout among first-year and second-year students increased by 3.2 and 1.4 percentage points respectively; turnout among students categorized as Black and Hispanic also increased (4% and 6.7% respectively). By discipline, we see opportunities for increased voter turnout among students in health sciences, STEM, and business fields.

UCA participates in the National Survey of Student Engagement, with the university's key performance indicator being the number of mean Academic Challenge scores equal to or greater than the comparable Carnegie class means. In 2018, the most recent year for which means are available from the UCA Office of Institutional Research, the mean scores for UCA freshmen and senior students met or exceeded the mean scores of UCA's Carnegie class in all four Academic Challenge areas.

UCA additionally participated in the National Inventory for Institutional Infrastructure on Community Engagement (NIIICE) in 2018 and successfully applied for the 2020 Carnegie Elective Classification for Community Engagement. While these two self-assessment tools address a broader scope of community engagement than the Civic Action Plan, they provided an opportunity for a university-wide working group to gather information about both centralized and decentralized community and civic engagement activities.

VII. Reporting

The Civic Action Coordination Committee requested from University Marketing and Creative Services the creation of a new website for sharing information about civic engagement at UCA. The plan document and results of implementation will be shared publicly on this website. The university also regularly sends out press releases to share information about civic engagement initiatives, and highlights from the implementation of the plan will be shared publicly through a variety of university and local media. Finally, all information shared publicly will also be distributed internally using the email announcement channel UCA Inform.

VIII. Evaluation

Data collection is vital to ensuring the efficacy and sustainability of civic engagement at UCA. Data are collected by the institution each semester on various metrics related to partner and project goals, activities, and outcomes. Metrics also include demographic information to assess diversity of students, faculty, staff, and community partners who participate in civic engagement activities.

While we have organized our plan around three broad outcomes and nine key activities, the measure and targets for each outcome and activity draw from the specific examples provided in the previous section of the plan and have been set in consultation with the responsible parties identified in the Strategies section and are not necessarily comprehensive. Additional measures and targets may be added throughout the plan implementation.

Data for the evaluation of civic engagement at UCA will be collected and shared by the Division of Outreach & Community Engagement through its annual reporting process.
